HUNS START AGAIN

Strike Between Rheims and Soissons and in Flanders on Lys Salient— Allies Well Prepared For Blow, Which Occurs Where Inevitably Existed.

With the British Army in France, May 27—The latest reports show that the Germans have made some small progress in places.

The attack of the Germans in the sector northwest of Kemmel appeared to be directed against the ground captured by the French on May 20.

Belgian troops have gained fresh victories over the Germans. On Saturday night they repulsed the Tonkin attacks or big raids on three sectors of their front.

The German attack against the Entente positions northwest of Kemmel was launched at 4:30 o'clock this morning after a heavy bombardment.

The stroke in Flanders, while of lesser magnitude, covering a front of less than ten miles, is nevertheless aimed at points which the Germans must take before they can hope to carry their April advance further toward the coast.

Behind the Loire-Voornezele line lie the hills which constitute the backbone of the Franco-British position, only the outlying peak of which the Germans captured when they took Mount Kemmel last month. Seven-penning, Mout Rouge, Mout des Cats and other eminences are yet barring the way to the Germans.

The Allied positions along both fronts under attack are notably strong. This is particularly true of the southerly line, guarded by the Rivers Oise and Ailette and the Chemin-des-Dames Ridge, which the German Crown Prince spent many weeks last summer trying to take. Not only did he fail, but he was forced still further back last fall when Gen. Petain launched a decisive blow in the Picardie region, drove in for a depth of two miles a day and compelled the Germans to fall back to the positions behind the Ailette, where they have since remained.

In the north the French recently have strengthened their hold on the hill region by pushing forward in the Loire sector in local thrusts and capturing important high ground. In general, the Allies seem well prepared for the thrust, and while they appear likely to be forced to give ground at points, the opinion of their high command has been reflected as confident in the ability of the Allied forces to prevent the Germans from gaining anything decisive.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT

The President's request of Justice Hughes, and the acceptance by Justice Hughes of the duty designated by the President, to assist the Attorney-General and the Department of Justice in the investigation of the charges against the aircraft board, deserves the highest commendation.

It is of supreme importance that the facts in regard to the construction—or lack of construction—of airplanes should be revealed to the American people. The charges made involve the honor and the patriotism, as well as the ability of the men who have had charge of the aircraft construction. The investigation should be thorough and searching. No man guilty of intentional delay, no man guilty of having used the power given by the Government for personal advantage or for the advantage of friends or a community, should be permitted to escape punishment. It matters not who the man may be, whether in the army or in civil life, who is responsible for the delay in the construction of aircraft, he should be exposed and the severest penalty meted out to him.

It should also be revealed to the American people who are responsible for the false prophesies upon which the American people and our allies depended, and because of which false prophesies Germany hastened the construction of airplanes. The one stupendous fact outstanding in the whole deplorable controversy is the fact that as yet, a year and more after our entrance into the war, we have not fulfilled the expectation or our allies, nor kept the promises made in words that we would send airplanes to Europe.

Excuses for this failure do not help; words do not protect our men in Europe, do not drive down the German airplanes, do not prevent the observation by German airplanes without which it would have been impossible for the Germans to begin the great drive in March or to continue the offensive in France or Flanders or Italy.

Either through intention or incompetency there has been a most disastrous failure, and every man involved in that failure must bear the blame until it is proven by irrefutable evidence that he is guiltless.

The appointment of Justice Hughes gives assurance that the investigation will be searching and the results be known. Justice Hughes is a great lawyer. In the insurance investigation he revealed high qualities of courage as well as ability. He has now an infinitely more important task than that which formerly confronted him and the performance of which brought him into national prominence. His selection by the President gives assurance that the President desires and will demand a thorough investigation.

The President's attitude toward criticism and the investigation of matters connected with the conduct of the war has been unfortunate. His statement that he wished all critics might be deported, his condemnation of the investigation by the Senate Military Committee that led to the reorganization of the War Department, showed a lack of appreciation of the need for a re-organization and an improvement in the War Department that was regrettable.

Criticism of the aircraft production in the face of the enthusiastic statements issued by Mr. Clegg and Secretary Baker has finally brought the reorganization of that branch of the service, and there is promise that under Ryan, with the authority given him by Congress, we will in the future do what we should have done in the past. The President's appointment of Justice Hughes to aid in the investigation of the production of aircraft is an indication that the President has begun to realize the importance and the value of public criticism and to heed the demands of the American people that the facts leading to our failure be revealed and those responsible for causing that failure be punished. We congratulate the President and the country upon this change of attitude, and earnestly hope it is the forerunner of a complete change of attitude by the Administration toward the conduct of the war.

With Schawat at the head of the Shipping Board, Ryan at the head of the Aircraft Production, Stettinius even as Second Assistant Secretary of War, and Hughes in charge of the investigation of the aircraft production, there is good ground for hope that there will be real leadership and real accomplishment in the near future.—Lexington Herald.

The cables say that Holland will let the Germans ship sand and gravel through, but not for military purposes. But they are needed for military purposes. The Germans need more sand than they have for the present drive and they will need the gravel to scratch when the drive is over.

If there is anything that will put a "smile" on, outside of favorable weather at your Planista—with the wonderful Ukulele attachment of an evening after a hard, strenuous, weary day of labor, of any kind.

To the manager, machinists, salesmen, the iron worker, the farmer, the mother or wife, tired, nerve-racked every day workers of every kind, music gives rest, peace, happiness—all that is good and helpful and this is needed now, more than ever before.

Many a man and woman today can look back through the flight of time and say, "I am still young, I am still strong, I am still healthy."

It's restful, tired, worn-out, nerve-racked humanity, whether they live in a mansion, flat or cottage—the result is the same and the cost of this wonderful rejuvenation is so moderate—less than $500.00.

Can you afford it? Of course you can, as a good investment not only for yourself but for your family, as one and all can play the Planista—any music they prefer.

How About It, Mr. Banker?

The bankers of Kentucky do not yet fully realize the importance of the War Savings campaign as part of the much greater campaign to defeat the Huns of Europe. It is not the primary purpose of the War Savings campaign to get two billion dollars for the Government, important as that is. One primary purpose is to give direction to the tremendous, but scattered energy of Mr. Average American. Every twenty-five cent piece put into a Thrift Stamp, every four dollars and fifteen cents put into a War Savings Stamp is just that much more energy released for the blow our Government is striking.

Of all people in this country, bankers ought to be the first to see this, and to appreciate also the great and valuable lesson of thrift which will be driven deep into the minds of the present and rising generation if the War Savings campaign really succeeds. Many of the banks in Kentucky are not yet actively interested in the War Savings movement. A great many of them, indeed, have the stamps on sale. Nearly all of them have displayed our posters. But these for the most part minister to your pleasure.

RIVER CHANGED ITS DIRECTION

(Pittsburg Dispatch)

The world was being turned upside down 19 centuries and more ago, according to the ideas of those "fellows of the baser sort" at Thessalonica; but there is a case a great deal more home of a certain portion of the world being turned wrong end foremost, or, rather other end before. If any person were to tell us that the Allegheny River did not always run in the direction in which it now runs we would likely not place very much credence to what he said.

Yet such is the fact, or, at least, is said by geologists to be so.

The Allegheny, which now runs in generally southern direction, is thought to have run in exactly the opposite direction at one time.

It is assumed and believed asserted very positively by scientific men who have made a special study of the subject, that the river ran north, past Lake Chautauqua, at some distance into Lake Erie.

A certain eminent geodetic made a very careful survey of the region, and published a map in which the ancient course of the stream.

This is why the War Savings Stamp campaign was devised by the Government. It gives every man, every woman and every child an opportunity to do something for the country they love. You do not have to be a millionaire and buy a lot of bonds. Your twenty-five cents for a Thrift Stamp or $4.16 for a War Savings Stamp will help your country and help it now. And the fact that you did without something to get the money to purchase this stamp will help even more for the country can not get war work done if the factories are busy ministering to your pleasure.

MAYSVILLE, KY.

Now For the Big War Savings Stamp Drive, June 24 to June 28

State Headquarters of the War Savings Committee in Kentucky is very busy these days preparing for the big June drive for pledging the State's quota, or what remains of it on June 24 next, when the drive starts. The plans for the drive were outlined at a meeting of county chairmen with members of the National Committee at Lexington on Friday of last week, and the hundred county chairmen in attendance upon the meeting were shown how easily the plan can be carried into effect in the State of Kentucky.

The general outline has been fitted to the campaign in Kentucky, and printed forms are being rushed through in order to get them in the hands of county chairmen as speedily as possible. The whole thing depends upon organization in the several counties of the State, and the counties represented at the Lexington meeting and those whose chairmen were unavoidably absent on that occasion were pledged to the National Committee to make whatever organization is essential to the success of the Nebraska plan.

Rather than to devote every week of the remaining months of the year 1918 to the work of the War Savings campaign, it was determined to make one big drive, June 24 to June 28 next, closing on National War Savings Day, during which time the rest of Kentucky's quota, that not already secured, will be pledged by its citizens, to be purchased during the six months following. This drive will not be for sales of stamps, but for pledges. When it is over, and Kentucky's quota has been pledged by her loyal citizens, the rest of the year will be mere "follow up" to see that the War Stamps are purchased as the months pass, to the end that when December 31 comes we can wire Chairman Vanderlip, of the National Committee, and our own Federal Director J. D. Lyon, that Kentucky has met her obligation as she always has done in the past, and over-purchased this best Government security.

The War Savings activity in Kentucky stood aside recently and helped "put over" the Third Liberty Loan campaign. Its organization has done its part in the other war activities of the year, and our county chairmen can now call upon those loyal men and women for assistance in our big June drive. Already scores of persons who have been engaged in the other activities have tendered their services to county chairmen for this drive, and in every instance their tender of service has been accepted. We should add every volunteer to the ranks of campaigners for the June drive.

The plan of winding up the big campaign with a public meeting in every schoolhouse in Kentucky in the afternoon of June 28, which is to be proclaimed National War Savings Day by President Wilson, by Governor Stanley and by the Mayor of every city, town and hamlet in the State, and at a time when all of the other States of the Union are holding such meetings, is a splendid one. The entire country will take an hour off on this day to pledge itself to Thrift and War Savings. Men and women of the entire country are not invited to attend, but are to be told that they are expected to be there to participate in the meeting of their community. The meetings are not to be adjourned until each community in each State of the Nation has pledged its quota, which will be announced in advance of the meeting.

In order to start off each meeting in the State of Kentucky with the proper enthusiasm the four days preceding the holding of the meeting will be devoted by the organization in each school district to securing in advance of the meeting the pledges of as many of the people of each community as can be seen in that limited time. A record of those pledging in advance of the meeting will be read at the meeting to show that they have already signed up to save and serve their country. A record also will be kept of those of each community who do not answer present when the community roll is called. Our Uncle Sam wants to know if there are any in the community who are not in sympathy with him as well as he wants to know the names of those who answer the call of the President on that great June day.

WHY AN AUTOMOBILE MAKES A SWISHING SOUND WHEN DRIVING ON ASPHALT STREETS

As you stood on an asphalt street on a crisp and cold winter day and watched automobiles whizzing past, which may have temporarily blocked your progress, did you ever notice a peculiar swishing sound not unlike the sound produced by escaping steam? The sound being apparently produced by the wheels of the automobile? It probably occurred to you that this sound was totally unlike the sound was totally unlike the sound you hear at other times of the year, as, for instance, on a warm summer morning, or on a wet day.

If you are at all observant you must have wondered at the great difference in sounds and what causes them. There is, of course, a reason which The Electrical Experimentist explains as follows:

"On a cold, crisp winter morning the conditions for static electricity are ideal. Any possessor of a static-electric machine will readily confirm this; hence we find that an automobile, which is nothing but a huge static machine on rubber rollers rubbing against a highly electrified asphalt pavement, produces static electricity in an abundant quantity. As any owner of a static machine knows, if the crank is turned and the electricity escapes, a peculiar hissing sound is observed, which is due to the fact that the static electricity escapes into air.

"The same thing happens when an automobile runs at high speed along the asphalt, the electricity emerging from the rubber tires as descending into the surrounding air with the aforementioned swishing noise. In this case, the automobile is negatively charged, while the ground (asphalt) is positively charged, and the high speed of the rubber tires rolling along the asphalt produces a sufficient electrostatic stress which may amount to several thousand volt. This, of course, charges or electrifies the automobile to a high degree, and it has often been

"Taking the question of a reward for a proper container, or more particularly as to a low rate on its return journey, shipping the barrels empty is not necessary, for the reason that they can be used for any kind of product when empty, and always find an eager market, returning full, as it were."

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Ills of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakness a chain so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills get distinctly on the kidneys. Maysville testimony is proof of their effectiveness.

Mrs. Harry Mann, 495 W. Second St., says: "About two years ago, I suffered from an attack of kidney trouble that had lasted for a long time. I had a dull, constant ache in the small of my back and the pains were often sharp. I was also dizzy and felt tired and languid. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I haven't been bothered by kidney trouble since. I gladly advise anyone to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Chenoweth Drug Co., if troubled by their kidneys."

Mrs. Mann is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Mann had—the remedy backed by home testimony, 60 cents at all stores. Noted by motorists that long sparks can be drawn from such an electrified automobile the minute it comes to rest. Of course, this charge is dissipated and lost a few minutes after the car comes to rest.

While there is no danger, as a rule, by thus highly electrifying an automobile, it sometimes happens that should a person, who had not been riding in the same car and who stands on the ground, should touch the gasoline tank (which perhaps has been leaking), an explosion often follows. The reason for this is that the car is still highly charged, while the body of the third person presents a good path for the electricity to surge into the ground, and if the spark made is anywhere near the gasoline tank, of course, results are apt to be disastrous.

From this vision a scheme evolved. Many men must unite to do what one could not accomplish alone. Their efforts must be fixed on a single object, the energizing of their city. Hence came a commercial club. It appeared at a result not as a creation. Its task was laid out and it was born to meet it.

To the commercial club is entrusted the city's future. If you believe in your city, you should share in the shaping of that future. If you are not doing your part someone else is doing it for you. There is enough work for everyone. You owe it to yourself to do what the work is done right.

FARMER IS PLEASED WITH BOYS WORKING RESERVE HELP

Copy of letter to C. A. Trevebaugh, Assistant Federal State Director from prosperous farmer of Bullitt county after using one of the U. S. Boys Working Reserve boys from Louisville:

"First—There are fewer damage claims.

"Secondly—A freight-crew will handle ten times the tonnage in barrels than it will in regular containers.

"Thirdly—Cars can be unloaded in one-tenth the time, and under weather conditions that with other contractors might prevent the release of the car.

"Fourthly—The barrel is more sanitary; this is the most important, although it does not enter into the calculation of transportation companies as we do the first three.

"As a matter of fact, I maintain that in the barrel we have had the best and the cheapest container with us for some time, and that it would be a great saving if this were generally understood."

BOOST YOUR TOWN

Pack in the days of every man for himself, a man dreamed. He imagined a co-operative force at work to rebuild a city which, seeking after a single object, had erected and would allow to decay. He knew that some day when Nature's most accessible resources were gone a man must undertake the task of restoration. He knew the fulfill of single handed effort.

AVIATOR MORGAN

Fred Morgan Formerly of This City Is Now Taking a Course in Balloon Observation.

The following communication received this morning from Lieutenant Fred Morgan formerly Chief Engineer of Dam No. 33 just East of this city, who resigned his position to enter the Fort Benjamin Harrison Training Camp:

Fl. Omaha, Nebraska, May 24, 1918.
The Ledger:

Will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am still in the army game. Have been here for five weeks taking the course in Balloon Observation which lasts about seven weeks in all. I just completed my ground course successfully and will begin my flights next week. Do not know just what effect being in the air will have on me but expect to be selected for the first few times up. This work is very interesting but it requires a great deal of work and study. The ground course was equal to my six months work in college that I ever took, so you can see that I have not been loafing since arriving at this post.

Do not know how long I will be on this side of the "Big Drink" but sincerely hope that it will not be long as I am anxious to get across and take an active part in the real contest.

With best regards to yourself and all my friends in Maysville, I remain

Very truly yours,

FRED M. MORGAN.

BIG GUNS

Open Up on Paris—Bombardment of City Resumed as Big Push Renewed on West Front—Two of Long-Range Pieces

Hind Boon Destroyed by French Airmen.

Paris, May 27—After a long interval the Germans again began to bombard Paris with long range guns at 6:30 o'clock this morning.

The resumption of the bombardment was an unwelcome surprise to the Parisians, who had not heard the sound of exploding shells from the German "big Bertha" since May 1. There was no mistaking the peculiar "ping" with which the shells burst, however, and it was immediately recognized that the long range firing was again on.

The first shell was followed at fairly regular intervals, much as on the occasions of previous bombardments, making it seem probable that more than one gun was in action.

It is significant that the long range bombardment of Paris, which had been expected for a considerable time, has been resumed just as the Germans are renewing their offensive on the West. The bombardment was opened Saturday, March 23, almost coincident with the start of the great offensive in Flanders.

At least two of the mammoth pieces were destroyed or badly damaged some time ago by the French artillery which adopted especial measures in conjunction with airplane observation, to reach them in their location just behind the westerly edge of the Aisne front, more than seventy miles from Paris.

Early this month the long range shelling was suddenly suspended, and on May 16 one of the German newspapers announced that two of the big pieces had been taken to the Krupp plant for repair work. Such huge guns, it was explained, "could not be fired indefinitely without timely repairs."

Misses Nellie Grant and Alta Adams returned last night from Transylvania University, Lexington, for the summer vacation.
